TIPS FOR FARM & GARDEN EXHIBITORS

When selecting fruit or vegetables for display make sure they are market size, quality, ripeness and free of defects. Refer to seed catalogs, type books and crop bulletins for information on specimen types. For display, they should be trimmed and presented correctly with the correct amount of specimens required as stated in the exhibitors guidebook.

Plate display presentation entry(s) should be uniform in size and color. the size should be what is acceptable for the industry.

Cleaning: your specimen should be free of soil, dust, and spray residue. Harvest and select only clean specimens if you can. Because they are easily injured, this is the only way to get clean summer squash. With other crops, a light brushing with a soft brush will often do the trick. This is all you should do to peas, beans, okra, cucumbers, and cantaloupes.

Fruit with a waxy surface - such as eggplant, peppers, tomatoes, watermelons - usually can be wiped clean with a soft cloth.

Root and leafy crops may often need careful washing, however. Certain leafy vegetables cannot safely be washed. Trim off the soiled portions of these vegetables.

Always use the proper tools, knife or shears for trimming.

Whatever method you use, be sure to avoid skinning and bruising your vegetables while you clean them.

Beans: Leave a 1/4 inch stem. Should be uniform in size and color.

Beets: Leave a one inch top.

Garlic: Leave 1/4 inch root and one inch top. Trim off mold.

Nuts: Hand pick; look for size, cracks, skin or bug holes.

Onions: Leave 1/4 inch root and one inch top. Leave dry skins on.

Small Cherry Type Tomatoes: Leave stems on. Tomatoes should be free of defects.

All Other Tomatoes: Remove stem. Tomatoes should be uniform in size and color.

Summer Squash:

Mature entries should be hard and full size. This size squash is used in the commercial industry for their seeds.

Table Size squash is the size purchased by most consumers in the grocery store that are typically cooked and served.

Zucchini: Leave stem and hair on. Handle from the stem.
